Vineyard

Composed of vineyards stretching over the South Slopes of Epernay and the Right Bank of Vallée de la Marne, spread out between its native village, Vinay, and the neighboring one: Moussy. The soils are mostly chalk, but with additional composition of clay, sand and flint. Vines are 35 years old on average.

Vinification

Jean-Philippe is very careful about separate vinification of each cru prior to the assemblage. The Brut Rosé champagne ages in the cellar for a minimum of 24 months after bottling. Disgorging occurs as late as possible to keep the freshness. The liqueur d'expédition is aged in oak for 3 to 5 months. As little dosage as possible (8.5g/l) and sulfite additions far below the usual champagne standards. Between 15% and 25% of reserve wines are used to perpetuate the quality and style of the Brut Rosé from one year to the next.

Pairing

Wonderful with grilled langoustines or strawberry charlotte, duck breast, and salmon steaks. Perfect with dishes with sweet and sour mixes and desserts made from red fruits.

In the beginning of the 1960's, Jean DIOT created the champagne who would hold his name. During the following years, he cultivated the family estate with the goal to preserve the family values and their traditions. The estate was then inherited by his children in 1998. Maison Jean Diot, based in Vinay from day one, carries on the will of its founder by producing several vins de Champagne thanks to the meticulous farming of the vineyards located on the south hills of Epernay and in the Marne's valley.
